TIME

Riches, health, talents, and opportunities are not equally divided among men, but the gift of time is the same to all. The most powerful man on earth cannot be granted an extra hour in the day.

God who gives the tree a season for growth, blossom, fruit and rest, gives to man sufficient time for every purpose. Time cannot be purchased, sold, stored up, nor cast away. It may bring glory; it may bring shame. But in the end it will serve God's purpose.

Heres To You . . . Ms. Edwards

The 1986-87 Journalism Staff would like to recognize a person who has given seven years of dedicated service to the students of Haysi High School. This person has helped many students begin their business careers through her diligent supervision of their efforts under her direction.

It is not only for these reasons, but for these and many more that the Journalism Staff has chosen to present this yearbook, A Time To Remember, to our sponsor, Ms. Debbie Edwards, in appreciation of her constant patience and appreciation.

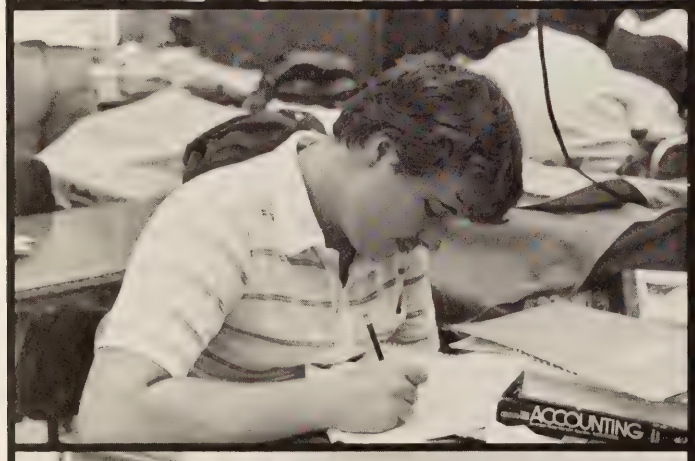
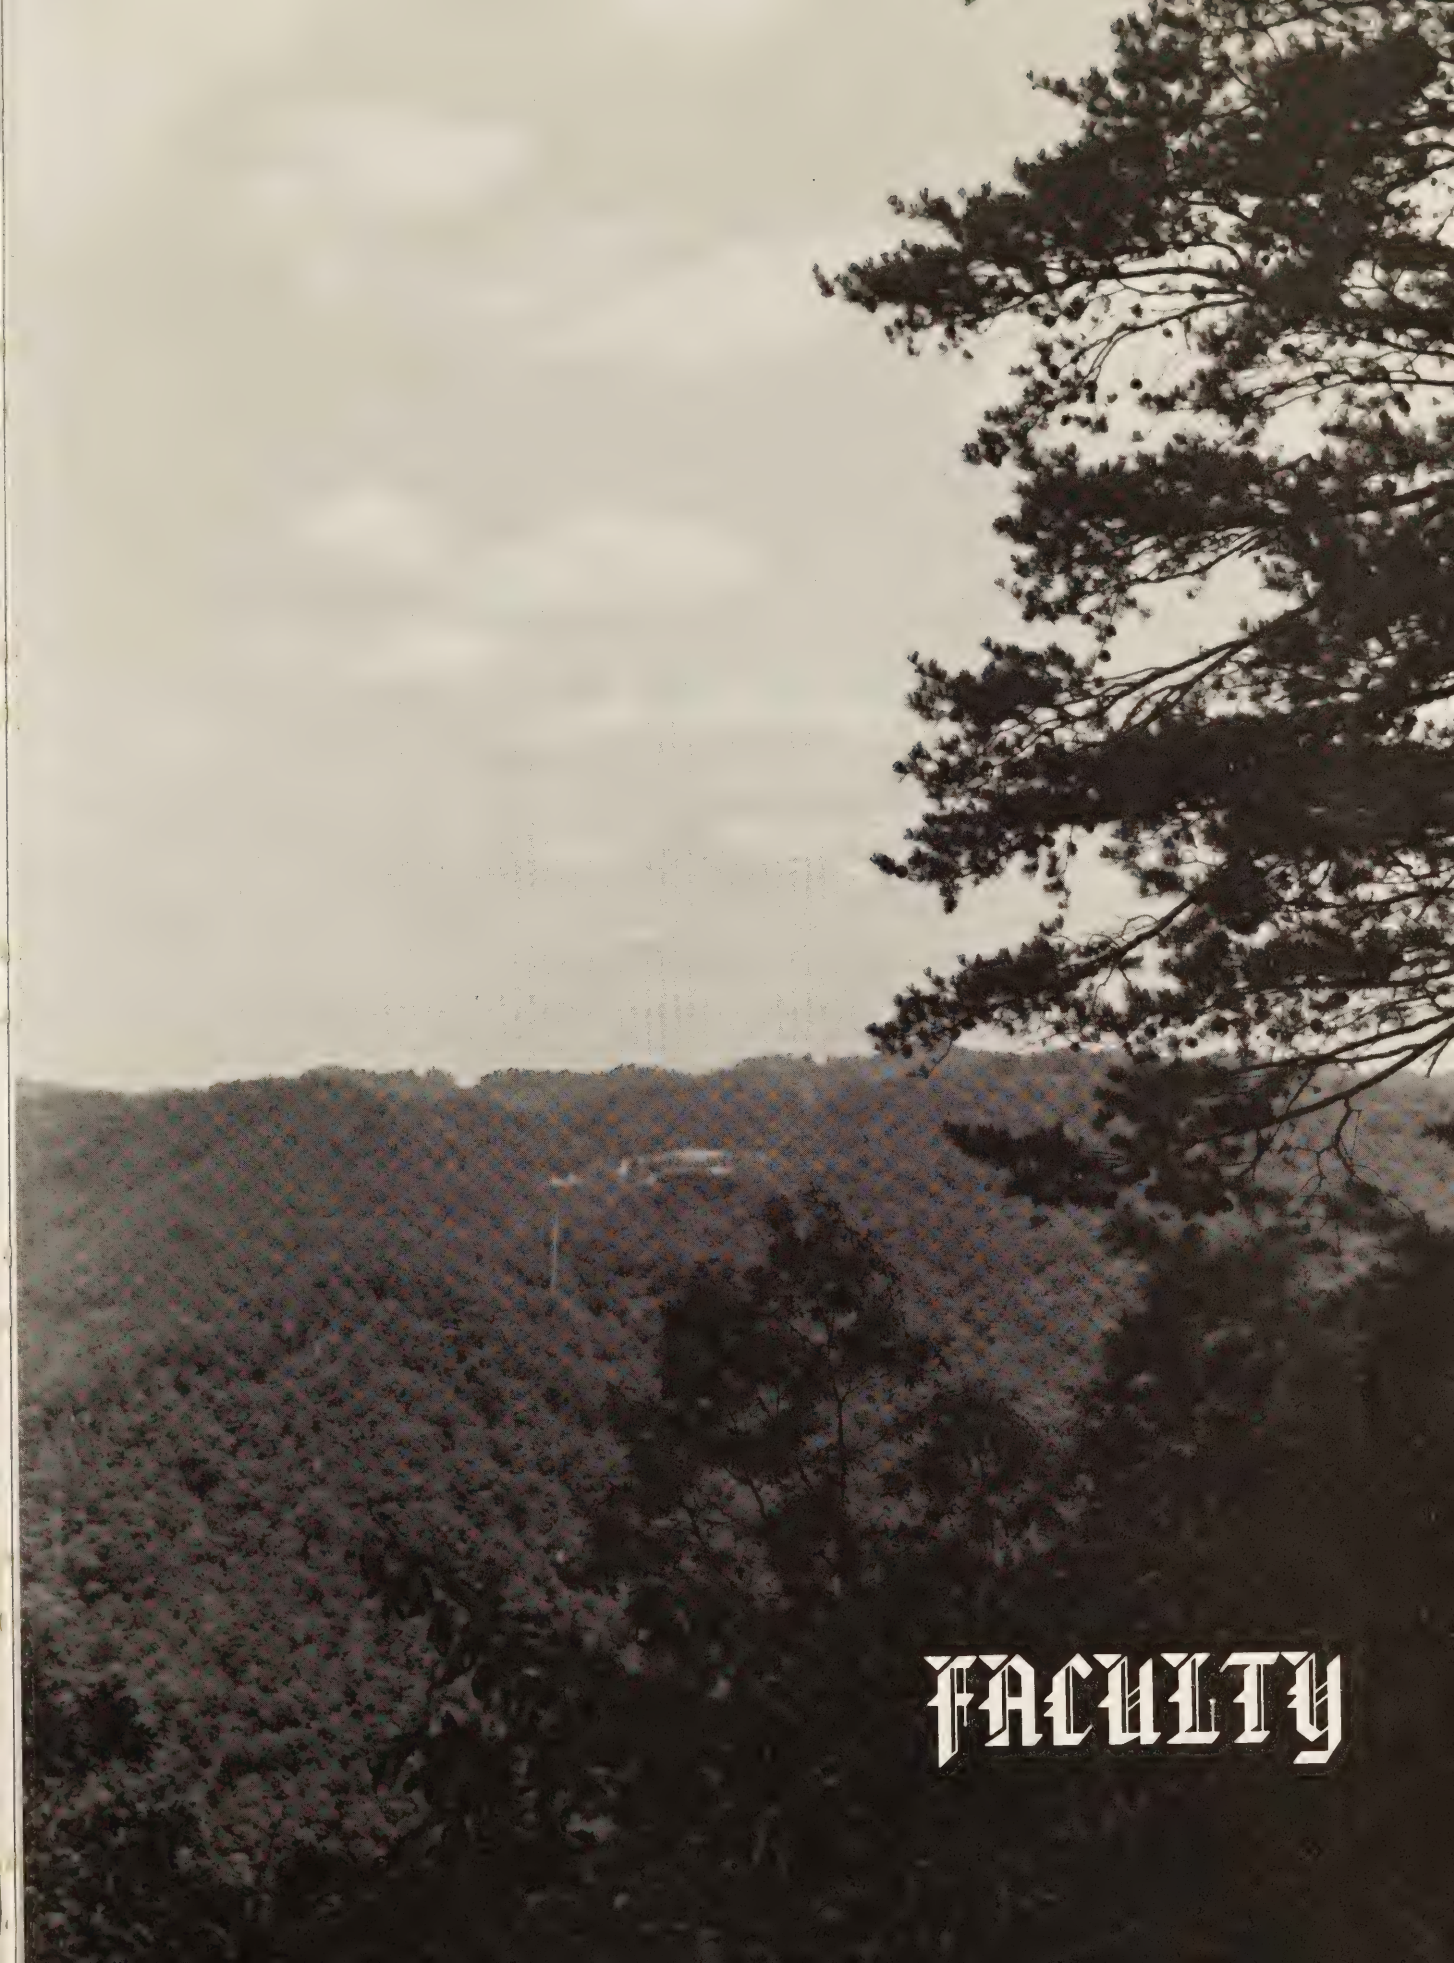
Life At Haysi High





FACULTY

Administration

Mr. David C. Yates

I would like to extend my congratulations to the Senior Class of 1987 for reaching a major goal in your life. I would like to compliment you on being an excellent senior class and for displaying "silent leadership" for Haysi High School. Quite often the personality of the school is reflected by the personality of its senior class, and I feel that the student body is following the pattern of the Class of '87 this school year. I believe you and your underclassmen have been sincere and earnest in meeting your objectives this school year and that you should be proud of your contribution to Haysi High School.

Finally, I would like to leave with you a small piece of advice. That advice is simply to be proud of your mountain heritage and to always keep a place in your heart for Haysi High School. Good luck and may God be with you.

David C. Yates
Principal

It has been a pleasure to be associated with the class of 1987. I've enjoyed being with you the last few years sharing your lives and your educational experiences. I hope you will always look back upon the years spent at Haysi High School as not only the time during which you grew intellectually, physically, and emotionally, but also an enjoyable time.

Good luck to you in all your future endeavors.

Forensics

Forensic Winners

In recent years, the Haysi High forensic team has established itself as a major power in the BDD. Sweeping the district in 1986, the team also had several competitors traveling to the regional competition. Much will be expected of 1987's young competitors as they try to live up to the school's newly established tradition.

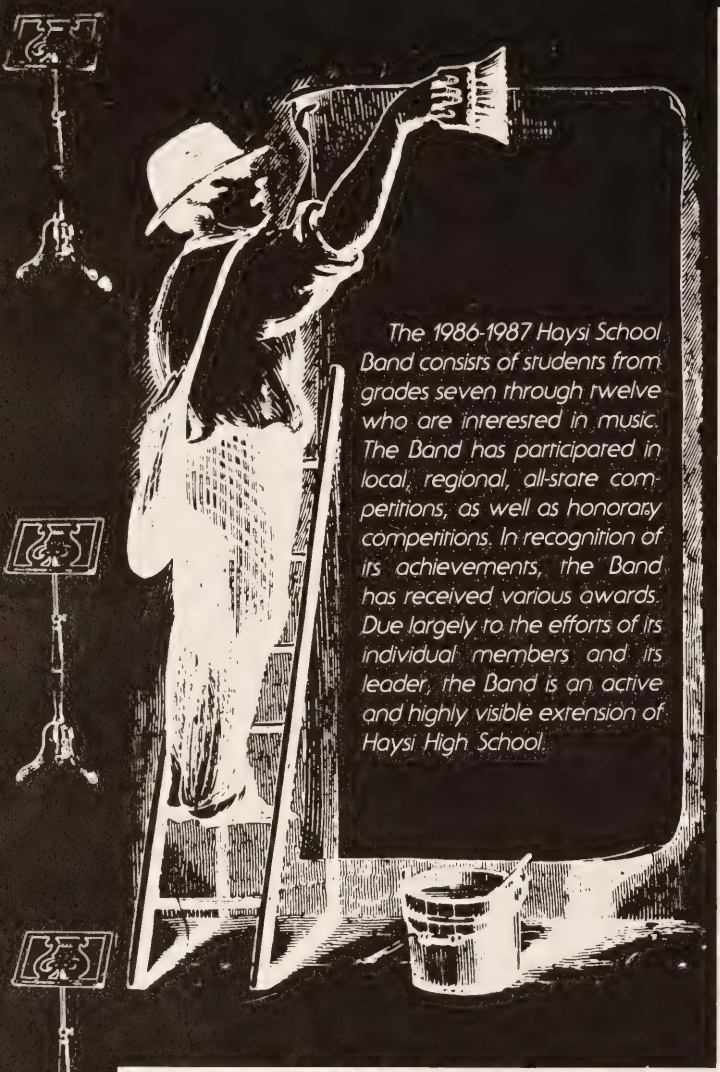
Choir



The 1986-1987 Haysi School Band consists of students from grades seven through twelve who are interested in music. The Band has participated in local, regional, all-state competitions, as well as honorary competitions. In recognition of its achievements, the Band has received various awards. Due largely to the efforts of its individual members and its leader, the Band is an active and highly visible extension of Haysi High School.

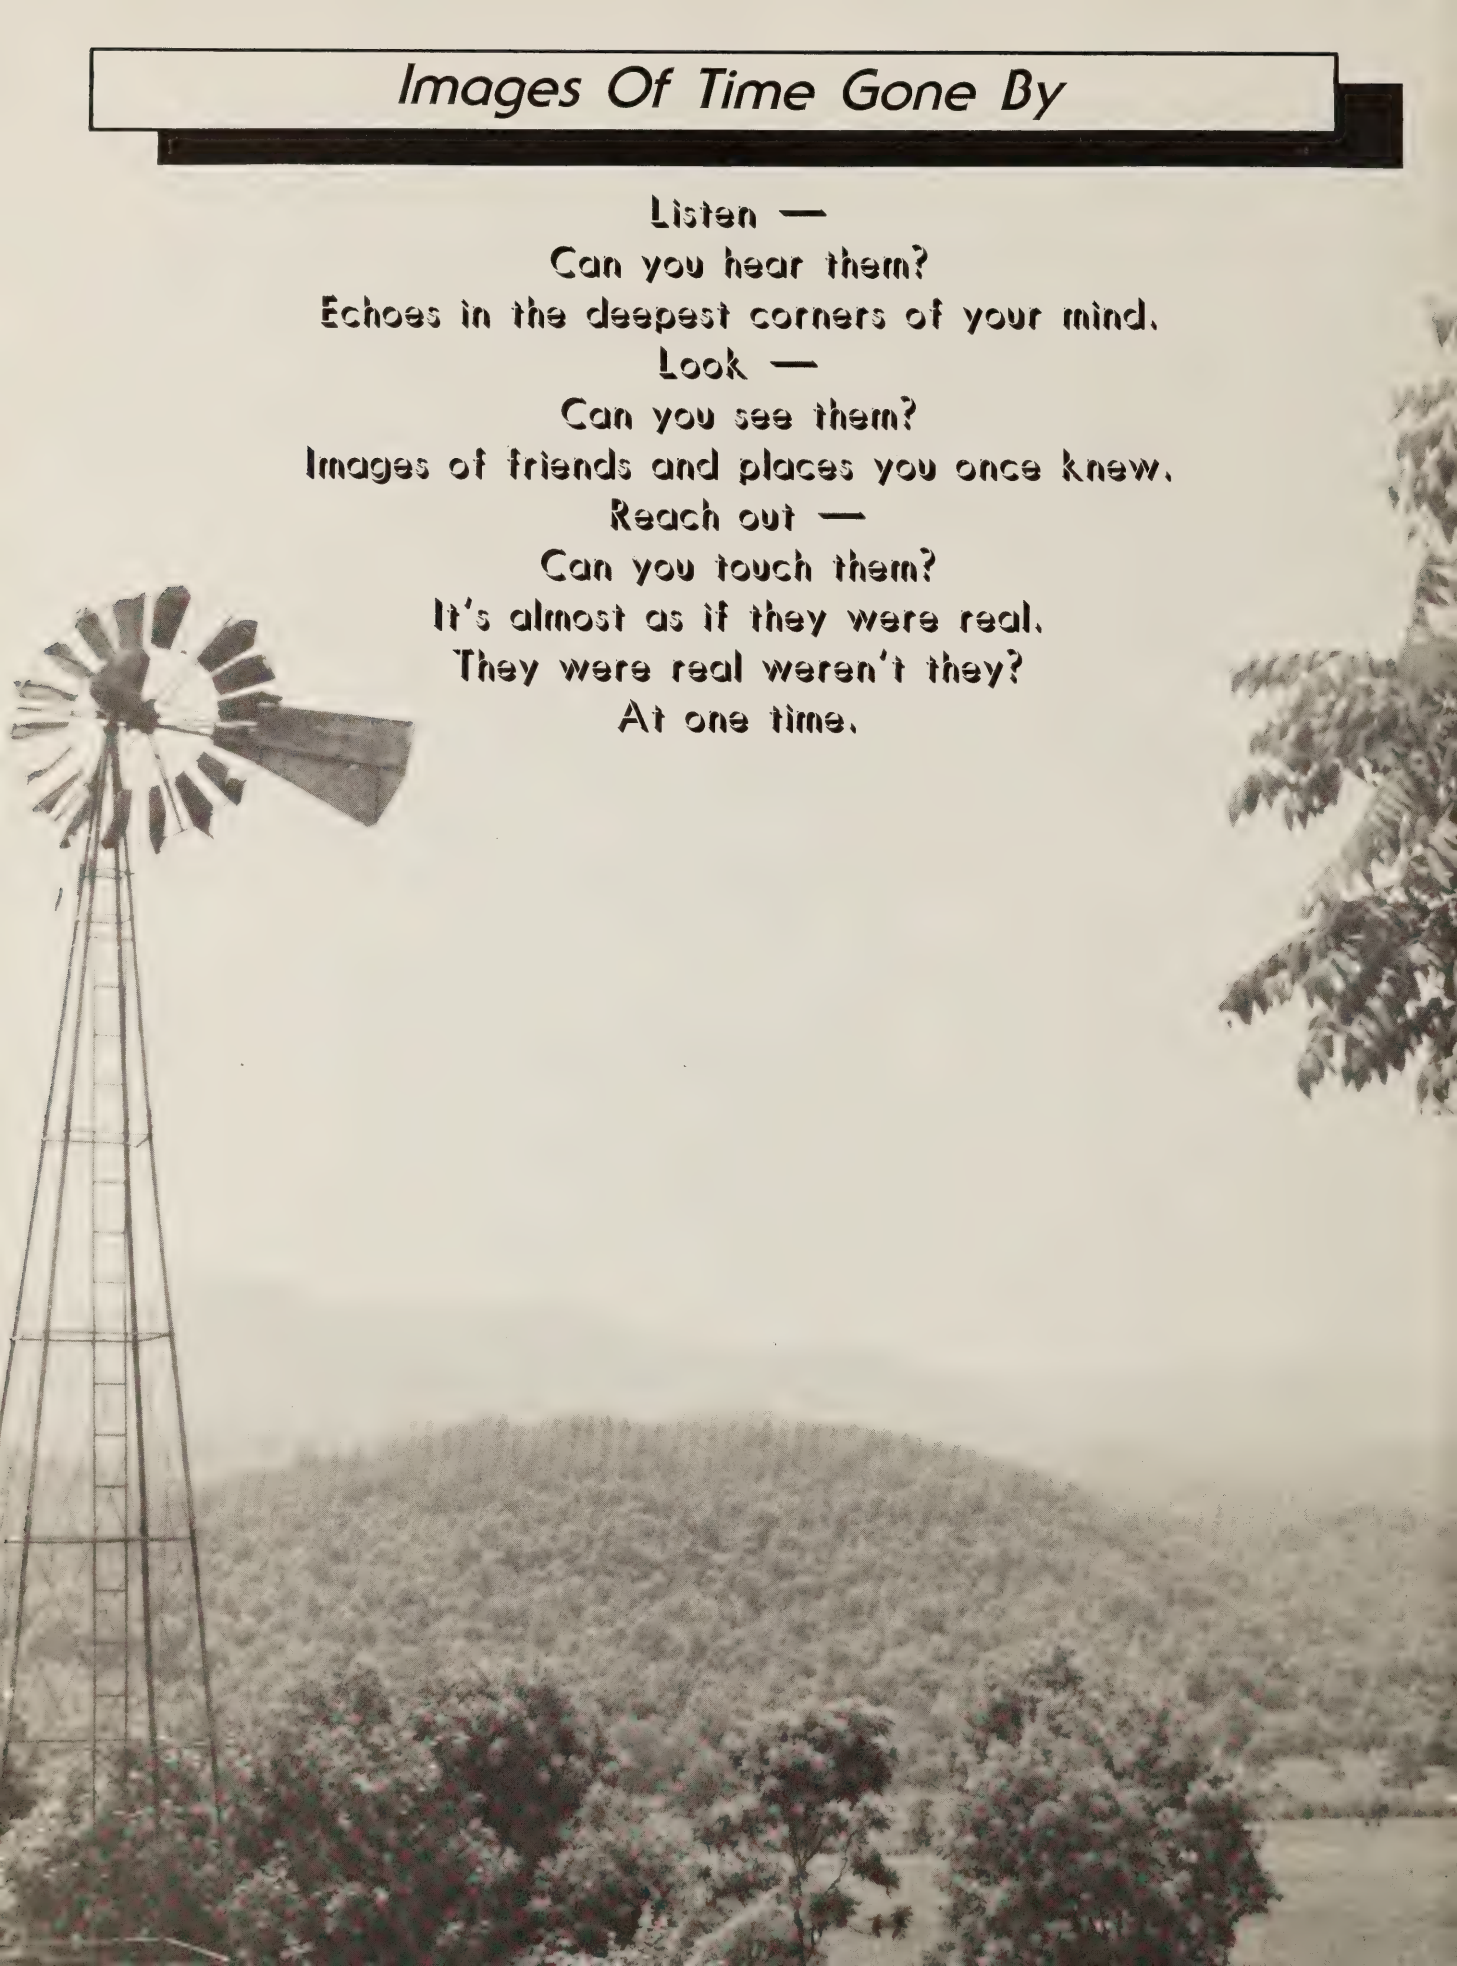
Images Of Time Gone By

Listen —
Can you hear them?
Echoes in the deepest corners of your mind.
Look —
Can you see them?
Images of friends and places you once knew.
Reach out —
Can you touch them?
It's almost as if they were real.
They were real weren't they?
At one time.



A Friend Remembered

Craig Lewis Edwards

A friend is something we all hate to lose,
But losing them is something we never choose.
No one will forget that day,
When God took him away,
It is always someone very dear,
We will always save Craig a tear.
Craig was a big part of the '89 team,
He was a part of our dream.
He always had a smile,
That seemed to shine a mile.
He was quite clever,
We will save his memories forever.
He was a friend to you and me,
As everyone can see.
I have this feeling that Craig and Jesus are walking hand-n-hand,
OH' in that beautiful glory land.
We all have to cry,
Because it is so sad,
Having to say "GOOD-BYE"
To the best friend you ever had!
